OPTIMIZE YOUR WORKOUTS WITH THE UNIQUE COACH BY COLOR® TECHNOLOGY

Coach By Color® optimizes training management in indoor cycling courses, on the training floor and during home workouts. ICG® is the only provider to combine the individual FTP value (functional threshold power in watts) with five colored training zones through the Coach By Color® training management system. Coach By Color® enhances the workout experience and helps achieve individual training goals by tapping into one of the most intuitive and effective forms of communication. Colors influence human reactions and interactions (psychological and physiological) in many areas of our lives.

The ICG® IC5 Indoor Cycle also features the unique Coach By Color® training management system, integrated directly into the bike's WattRate® LCD computer. Based on your individual workload, you receive important information about your training zone. The various fitness tests included in the computer are used to calculate your personal FTP result. This allows you to perfectly adjust your intensity to your training goals.
